2012 Tavistock Cup Returns to Lake Nona

Rosters set for competing teams Albany, Isleworth, Lake Nona and Queenwood

ORLANDO, Fla., (March 7, 2012) - The Tavistock Cup returns to Lake Nona Golf & Country Club this spring showcasing the top touring professional members of Albany, Isleworth Golf & Country Club, Lake Nona and Queenwood Golf Club.

The ninth annual Tavistock Cup, which takes place March 19 and 20, is an officially sanctioned PGA TOUR event recognized by many as the World Golf and Country Club Championship.

There are six golf professional members representing each competing club's team this year.

Team Albany's roster features Tim Clark, Ernie Els, Trevor Immelman, Ian Poulter, Justin Rose and Tiger Woods.

Team Isleworth's lineup includes Robert Allenby, Daniel Chopra, Charles Howell III, Sean O'Hair, and newcomers Bo Van Pelt and Bubba Watson.

Defending champion Team Lake Nona is represented by Ben Curtis, Ross Fisher, Retief Goosen, Peter Hanson, Graeme McDowell and Tavistock Cup rookie Gary Woodland.

Team Queenwood is made up of Thomas Bjorn, David Howell, Soren Kjeldsen, newcomer Tom Lewis, Paul McGinley and Adam Scott.

Collectively, the four clubs enjoy an unrivaled depth of talent representing the highest concentration of top-ranked golfers who together have won more than 860 worldwide victories, including 62 major championships as of 2011.

Established in 2004, the Tavistock Cup began as a friendly cross-town rivalry between Isleworth and Lake Nona's golf professional members. In 2011, the Tavistock Cup introduced a four-way competition for the first time in its history by bringing in two new clubs, Albany and Queenwood.

Defending champion Lake Nona has notched four Tavistock Cup victories in 2007, 2009, 2010 and 2011. Isleworth won the Tavistock Cup in 2004, 2006 and 2008. The 2005 matches between Lake Nona and Isleworth ended in a tie following a sudden-death playoff. Albany finished second and Queenwood placed fourth in their 2011 Tavistock Cup debuts.

The Tavistock Cup will be played on Lake Nona's Tom Fazio-designed golf course recognized as one of his best early designs. The 18-hole championship course continually ranks among the top residential courses in the world and has hosted a number of international tournaments.

Each year, Tavistock Cup contestants play for prize money, team hole-in-one prizes and the title of World Golf and Country Club Champion. But the tournament also exists to raise money for philanthropy, having donated more than $6.5 million to local, national and international charities over the last eight years.

The Tavistock Cup matches have become one of the most unique golfing events of the year as tickets are not sold to the public. Only club members, sponsors, designated charities and invited guests are able to attend the two-day event. Once in, there are no ropes separating the world's best players from the spectators.

The tournament will be broadcast live on the Golf Channel in the U.S., Canada, China and Japan and airs on international affiliates throughout the United Kingdom, Australia, Latin America and South Africa. TavistockCup.com will feature real-time live scoring of the 2012 Tavistock Cup matches.
